Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

Someone across the counter casts an envious eye toward this desk. Nothing much to do 'cept pound a dinged ol' typewriter, the glance says. Well, let's see. First, we are growing a crop of whiskers and that is a he-man's job. They grow themselves of course, but the thing is to defend them with might and main and let 'em grow. There are people who would like to see 'em off, to say good-bye and good riddance. One must be on guard.

Next, collect money for the Boy Scouts. They need a lodge and twenty citizens are now out soliciting funds. They are reluctant solicitors. They had rather give than receive, but they are out just doing their level best.

Then there is the park. When the citizens voted that swimming pool out there, they did not perhaps know that the State Board of Health is vastly interested in how it is run and what is done to keep it sanitary and clean. That means there is a campaign of education to be gotten across. But the city council has no money to spend on the things the pool has got to have, or else—In the meantime all subscribers and readers of this column are urged to present ideas of how to do with nothing much to do with. Somehow or other the pool must be improved, the battle with algae, or green slickens, must go forward. Once it gets to rampaging in the pool it makes the pool look like pea soup.

And again, there's the Chamber of Commerce that has launched several projects, from the Fourth of July celebration down to the study of a community chest plan for Nevada City. The editor is on that committee, but very willingly accepts the uniformly good ideas of chairman about gathering all the various solicitations into one big solicitation annually. The chairman is H. E. Kjorlie and when the Chamber meets tonight he will have a plan ready for discussion. Not much editorial time lost with that committee except to meet and say yes.

Last and by no means least is the Nugget. It needs more than a public relations man to run it. Though public relations are more important to a newspaper than any other relations. For any editor, if you don't mind a pun, the public relation, is the rich relation.

For instance, combining pleasure with business, Saturday afternoon and Sunday were spent in pleasant converse and fishing. The fishing was highly unprofitable. Not a fish, thank you. The converse with other newspaper folk, such as Vic Cassidy and his bride, at Downieville, Bonaface Holzwarth at Sierra Buttes Inn, Judge Acton Cleveland at Camptonville, Mrs. Katherine Braithwaite at North San Juan, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis at Gold Pan Lodge was interesting and we trust, profitable to all concerned.

Then there was the spiritual communion with the Sierra Buttes and the lakes at the foot of it that profits every man or woman who sees them. The Good Book urges us to lift our eyes to the hills. The mountains of the Holy Land are hills compared to the Sierra Buttes. The Sierra Buttes with their patch work cloaks of snow through which the granite strength of the mountain bulges, would have given the prophets of old something of magnitude and majesty to write about.

Sardine lakes, upper and lower, each deserve a sonnet or an ode. They are pearls, amethysts, pools in the Gardens of Allah, mirrors of Paradise—all these fail to lim their splendor. As for the fish, dern their scales, they would not bite. Yes, there was one handsome strike. But the trout got away and took the hook, a little brass salmon egg hook, with him. Presently he struck again, but this time it was the bait of a young companion with a nimble wrist. The fish was landed and there in his jaw was the little brass hook. This trout must have been a sucker. There are three honest witnesses to this fish story.

So don't come into this office and cast over the counter an envious eye. What with whisker growing and defending, fishing, public relations, and keeping all bills paid; what with training a "collitch poy" to be a serviceable "grease monkey" around the shop, what with writing this column after being up on top of the mountains for a day and a half, what with spreading the good news, and letting the rest of the world in on the best place in the world to live, the writer of this column is mighty busy.

Seventy Five Mining Students Are Guests Of Nevada County

Seventy five mining students accompanied by eight of their instructors and professors from the Colorado School of Mines made the rounds of the principal mines in Nevada county today. Auburn business men loaned their cars to the students and factulty members and they paid Nevada City a visit late in the afternoon. Among the mines visited were the Empire-Star and the Idaho Maryland.

Three Pullman cars brought the big party out from Colorado and these were parked in Auburn while the students visited the mines.

Since Nevada county is produces more gold annually than any other county in the United States, the students were naturally interested in examining the ores and the processes under which the gold is extracted.

BISHOP PORTER CONFIRMS CLASS

The Right Rev. Noel Porter, bishop of Sacramento, spoke in Trinity Episcopal church to a large congregation Sunday. He also confirmed a class of candidates. A beautifully rendered solo was sung by Mrs. C. E. Bosworth.

The following are those in the class: Mrs. Margaret Isabella Bosworth, Mrs. Irene Matilda Carter, Mrs. Christina Christensen, Misses Ferne Lunette Rockefeller, Patricia Caroline King, Lucille Dolores Danos, and Donald Elmer Bosworth.

After the service Bishop Porter was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rector.

GRACEY-GLENCOE MINE PASSES TO S. F. GROUP

The Gracey-Glencoe mine, southeast of Nevada City, was taken over last Friday by Mr. George A. Tott and men from associated banking interests of San Francisco. Mr. Tott will be in full charge of the property. Associated in operating the mine with him will be Mr. Russell Wilson.

Mr. L. W. Cheney, who took over the property about a year ago has sunk the shaft about 300 feet deeper and through drifting to the ledge has proven the ore to carry good values in gold for the whole distance. Mr. Cheney who has made many friends here, both in business and mining associations, will be missed.

UNLICENSED ANGLER JAILED

Game Warden Hiscox arrested George Mileshosky for fishing with out a license. Unable to pay a $25 fine Mileshosky is spending 12 1-2 days in jail.

PARTY FOR BILL KILROY

Bill Kilroy of Drummond street, entertained several friends at a party Friday evening when several hours were spent in playing games and dancing the Virginia reel. Refreshments were served at the close of the games.

Those present were, Misses Mary Barry, Alice Willard, and Betty Lou Krough, Messrs. Ben and Thomas Barry, Willard McClain and Bill Kilroy.

DEER CREEK UNION MINE

A new shaft being sunk on contract at the Union mine southeast of Nevada City, is down 350 feet and work will continue until they have completed their objective. Considerable work has been done on the road along Little Deer Creek preparatory to trucking ore from the mine to a custom mill. Capt. George A. Nihell, owner of the property, is in charge of development operations which are being financed by Sacramento people.

WIND WHISTLING IN WHISKERS IS PIPING A DANCE

The wind whistling through the whiskers of the Whiskerinos is now piping a dance tune in anticipation of the big county wide Whiskerino dance at Lake Olympia next Saturday night. This is a dress-up get-together affair in which each man's whiskers will be given a critical appraisal. The fun will start at nine o'clock p. m. and will stop sometime around cockcrow.

The evening will be large and the spacious ball room will be filled with beautiful women, gallant men and bushels of whiskers. Prizes will be given for the reddest bush and the blackest bush. There will also be awards for phoney beards and funny fuzzes.

Rollie Barton, favorite orchestra leader with his swing band will provide old and new dance tunes.

There is no doubt but that the Whiskerino ball will be the bell wether of summer social events. From San Juan Ridge are coming a large number of gentlemen whose facial herbage has kept pace with the wild hay of the mountain meadows. From Peardale and way points another group will appear with maps covered with a whisker assortment that should make Father Abraham turn over in his grave with envy. Grass Valley and Nevada City are engaged in a generous rivalry to see which city will produce the largest, most varigated and colorful crop of phiz fungus.

Last Friday night's meeting of the Whiskerinos was a wow and a whoop. Ted Janiss, the chief boss, was also conductor and leader in choral effects. The male voice softened and muted by issuing through massed whiskers produced an unusual sound. Art Remple of Grass Valley loaned his amplifying system and with this the choruses were carried to the top of Sugar Loaf.

Louis Kopp, membership chairman, had counted up to 1500 Whiskerinos, but there lost the tally, and asked another week to complete it.

A finance committee, appointed for other virtues than their beards, was named as follows: M. N. Nichols, Jack Clark, Walter Hawkins and R. Berggren. Bills contracted were audited and ordered paid.

Ted Janiss announces that owing to the fact that the big Whiskerino ball takes place next Saturday night there will be no regular Whiskerino meeting next Friday night.

Bob Moscatelli, owner of the Davis Flat gravel property at Washington was a business visitor in this city today.

SENIOR BALL TO BE IN JAPANESE GARDEN SETTING

Elaborate plans are being made by the Class of 1936 of Nevada City high for their annual Senior Ball which will be held next Friday evening in Armory Hall. Having secured one of the finest orchestras in northern California for the event, the class feels that this year's dance will be oustanding. An eight piece orchestra, probably under the personal leadership of Rollie Barton, will render popular dance melodies from nine until one.

The decorations, built around a Japanese garden theme, and the building of a miniature tea-garden to serve as refreshment stand will bring in a highly decorative color scheme. Work is under way in transforming the hall into a garden spot with Winton Whitley and Mervin Doolittle in charge.

The dance is to be in the form of a semi-formal this year. Admission will be, as in former years, one dollar per couple and twenty five cents for spectators. Doors will be opened at 8:30 p. m.

California Has Paid Billion For Highways

(By RALPH H. TAYLOR)

Built in a span of 25 years to meet the demands of a new age in transportation, California's street and highway system—the finest, longest, broadest, most extensive and most expensive network of roads in the civilized world—has cost California taxpayers more than a billion dollars!

The state highway system alone has accounted for an outlay of nearly $700,000,000, according to a study just completed by the California Taxpayers' Association. And city streets and county roads have boosted the total well over the billion dollar mark.

Since the magic strains of "Come Away With Me, Lucille, In My Merry Oldsmobile" first made an amazed world suddenly auto-conscious, motor vehicle registration figures have also zoomed upward to phenomenal totals.

Back in 1906, when automobiles were "horseless carriages" and dirt roads were corrugated speedways—when reckless youth dashed over the country side at 20 miles an hour, and gay young blades swaggered in gauntlets, gogwles and linen dusters—California boasted a grand total of 6,428 cars!

But by 1910, youth was saying, "Watch my smoke!" And oldsters were busily forming "good roads' commiteees". Iu that year, California auto registration reached 36,146.

In 1913, for the first time, automobile registrations topped 100,000. And paved highways had become front page news.

Today, only 25 years after the first highway bond issue, California's entire population—6 million strong—could go for a ride at the same time in California-licensed cars, with plenty of seats left over for friends and out of state visitors. And the state's highway system would accomodate the huge caravan without crowding.

With a total of more than 2,250,000 motor vehicles registered, California, in 1936, leads the entire United States in number of pleasure cars, and is second only to New York in trucks, trailers, buses and other commercial impedimenta of the highways.

And California taxpayers, paying as they ride, are contributing approximately $60,000,000 per year toward state highway construction and maintenance—exclusive of the millions collected each year for city streets and county highway funds!

The all important query—"Who pays the bill for California highways?" is answered in the analysis made public by the California Taxpayers' Association, at least insofar as state roads are concerned.

California motorists, through their contributions under the state gasoline tax, are the heaviest contributors. Since the gas tax was first adopted in 1923, revenues from this source for highway purposes have totaled the huge sum of $327,920,722!

Highway bond issues—the method of financing used during the early days of road construction—accounted for $74,115,830; general state taxation, $60,048,818; federal aid, largely a return to California of federal gas tax monies collected here), $53,890,230; auto licenses and fees, $155,721,408; gross recepits taxes on trucks and buses, $8,755,058.

Also of interest is the fact that the state, during the past 25 years, has allocated back to the various counties more than $160,000,000 in highway funds collected by means of the gas tax and license fees.

When the California farmer goes to market, he pays his pro rata of highway costs in gasoline taxes; he pays again at the beginning of each year in license fees, and for the first time this year, a new "in lieu" tax on his car's valuation. The city motorist pays a similar schedule, with each gallon of gas being taxed 3 cents by the state and one cent by the federal government.

Whether commercial vehicles—trucks, trailers and buses—are paying their just proportion of the highway overhead is an issue now under debate in many sections of the state and a question which will require thorough inquiry before a satisfactory answer can be given.

RIVER TRAGEDY VICTIMS' BODIES ALL RECOVERED

Word came to Nevada City today that the body of Bert Hamilton of Grass Valley third of a boating party to drown on the Sacramento river at Sacramento last Sunday, had been found this morning.

Recovery of the three bodies, has been accomplished, in a week since the tragedy took place. All efforts to recover their bodies were unavailing until Sunday when first the body of Harold Trathen was found Sunday morning, and Mrs. Mary Hamilton's body was found late in the afternoon. It is understood all the bodies will be cremated, those of Trathen and Mrs. Hamilton being cremated within a few hours after recovery.

FOREST HIGH GOOD CITIZENS WIN S. F. TRIP

Jason Davis, Lois Davies and Verna Davies, pupils of the Forest high school, are the three lucky pupils who are to enjoy a five day trip to San Francisco, right after the school graduation early in June.

The story of this award was told in the Nugget two weeks ago, but the names of the winners had not been announced.

They get the trip for their good citizenship as students based on their last two years record in the Forest high school.

Their extensive itinerary will cover among other points, of interest and in a section of the Southern Pacific Train "Cascade," the University of California, the Chevrolet factory, Boering School of Aeronautics, attend a radio broadcast, Golden Gate Park, University of California Hospital, a visit to a big metropolitan newspaper office, the C. & H. sugar refinery at Crocket and San Quentin prison.

Mrs. June Johnson, principal of the school, and Miss Gladys Brown, assistant, will be in charge of the trip and the headquarters will be at the William Taylor Hotel.

LIQUOR DEALER ARRESTED FOR SALE TO MINORS

Sheriff Carl Tobiassen and Russel Farley, state equalization board investigator on Saturday arrested Andrew Roquet of Truckee, on a charge of selling liquor to minors. Roquet will appear for arraignment before Justice of the Peace Smith tomorrow.

OFFICER ATTACKED JAILS ASSAILANT

Edwin LeTour of Nevada City was arrested Friday after, it is charged, he attacked Captain Joseph Blake of the California Highway Patrol.

It is claimed LeTour struck Blake when the officer was questioning him about a crash between LeTour's car and one driven by Edgar A. Gay of Grass Valley.

Blake handcuffed his assailant and took him to the Nevada county jail.

LeTour was tried in Justice of the Peace Mobley's court today, he pleaded guilty, was fined $100 or 90 days in jail. On his promise to go to work and earn the money to pay the fine, the jail alternative was suspended.

Mr. M. Penrose, who has been quite ill at his home on Silva avenue for four days, was able to be down town for a short time today.

Youth Tackles The World

(Contributed)

That time of year is here, now, when great legions of youth will march forth from high schools and colleges, diplomas in hand, with high hopes and an indomitable determination to conquer the world.

Naturally they will be somewhat disillusioned, and disciplined in the school of hard knocks. That merely tempers the steel. But how much better their opportunities are this year! More jobs are open to them than at any other time since 1931.

Problems galore, of course, as youth always has. Many of them will go into large business enterprises, there to start at the bottom. They will spend long hours in this "school", learning salesmanship, marketing, efficient business methods and procedure. Their incomes, while not huge at first, will be adequate, steady and certain.

Others, having a little saved, will choose a less certain path, setting up enterprises of their own. They should know beforehand that competition causes only 2 to 3 per cent of business failures, while inexperience and lack of capital cause 25 to 30 per cent.

So competition from large organizations will not block their paths, if they have the experience and wisdom to be efficient, and enough money to support even a very small business properly.

These problems of livelihood first. But what a multitude more there are! Problems of marriage, of a home, of future relationships—all to be tackled with youth's bustling energy and enthusiasm. What man is not tempted to want to turn back time and relive these years of his life?

Reproduced from the Philadelphia Inquirer of March 28, 1936, is this facsimile of a letter purportedly signed by Charles McDonald, Democratic leader of the 14th ward, Philadelphia, instructing division committeemen to visit all relief recipients and WPA jobholders and threaten them with dismissal if they don't register Democratic.

WHISKERINOS FLOCK TO DANCE AT SAN JUAN

(By KATHERINE BRAITHWAITE)

The clan of dirty chins, better known as Whiskerinos, turned out one hundred per cent for the Forty-niner dance held Saturday night in North San Juan. The brush-faces accompanied by glaring red shirts and long tailed coats took full possession of the dance hall early in the evening and everyone presente voted a hilarious time was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Dudley, on their way home from a two weeks' honeymoon stopped over in North San Juan for the dance. In striking contrast to the boisterious rioting of the bearded ones the crowd quieted down while the orchestra played "I Love You Truly" and the young married couple waltzed alone while the spectators sang the beautiful old song.

The North San Juan Ridge Improvement League gave away three beautiful prizes directly after supper. They were won by Everet Kessler, Leona Davenport, and Mrs. Amelia Cunningham of North San Juan. Mr. Glen H. Cleland of Nevada City gave away an automobile grease job which was won by Wright Coleman of Cherokee. Mr. Orin Thompkins of Nevada City gave away ten gallons of gasoline and was won by Mr. Richard Enderle of Camptonville. Directly after the awarding of the prizes Mrs. Alice Swazey the Kate Smith of the foothills, delighted the audience with two favorite numbers.

Among the out of town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pierce, Jack McDonald and party of Nevada City. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Flatley of Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton and party of Nevada City. Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Davelly, and Mrs. Carl Johnson of Alleghany, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lavelly of New Town, Mr. L. Hopper Eddy and party of Nevada City.

The North San Juan division of Whiskerinos have announced their intention of appearing in full force at Lake Olympia this coming Saturday night in return for the courtesy of the big attendance of the last two dances at North San Juan.

GRADUATE GRIDDERS SCORE ONE TOUCHDOWN

When the final gun sounded on the civil football battle played Friday evening between the graduating gridders and the coming varsity, eleven surprised old-timers at the game left the field with a mere six points separating them from the losers. It was to be a cinch game, but anything can and did happen in a football game, and the youngsters who will represent the Nevada City high throughout the coming season held the veterans to one lone touchdown.

It was not a thrilling contest, but many of the good points of the game were demonstrated by members of both teams. The enthusiasm of an inter-school contest was lacking, although both teams worked hard to put over the winning punch.

Most of the yardage was made though line plunges, but passes attemputed were successful The sole touchdown of the game was made by Don Jones. An attempt for conversion with a pass from Budie to Stevens was successfully carried out, but an offsides penalty cancelled the extra point.

REV BUCKNER ORGANIZES JUNIOR EPWORTH LEAGUE

The organization of a Junior Epworth league under the leadership of Rev. H. H. Buckner of the Methodist church has been successfully started with more than a score of interested youngsters in attendance at recent meetings. The league included boys and girls from eleven to thirteen years of age, and is a part of the international Epworth League association.

On Wednesday evening, the Junior Leaguers will meet at their headquarters at 5:30 p. m. from where they will leave for an evening hike and weiner roast. They will be under the direction of two senior leaguers who will instruct the group in outdoor games and will supervise their safe return.

POPULATION IN NEV. COUNTY UP 5,184 IN 5 YEARS

Challenging the statement of the Federal Bureau of the Census that California's population is decreasing, California Taxpayers' association today declared that its estimates indicate a gain of 673,000 persons in the state since 1930, instead of the loss of 37,000 claimed by the federal government.

California, according to the estimates of the Taxpayers' association, had a population of approximately 6,350,000 in 1935, instead of 5,639,000 which the census bureau estimates.

Nevada county showed an increase of 5,184 persons in the five years, the association estimates.

"We do not know what formula the federal authorities used in making their estmates," Paul V. Lane, of the research department of the Taxpayers' association, declared, "but their results are highly improbable. It is a matter of official record that the excess of births over deaths during the five years was more than 60,000. A net loss of 37,000 in population would mean that nealy 100,000 persons had left the state. Instead of this, we have many evidences of a steady influx of immigrants from other states.

"The Taxpayers' association's estimates of population received their first test in 1930." Lane stated, "when our estimate differed from the Census by less than one per cent.

"The association has been studying population trends within California for the past ten years," he stated. "Three different methods of estimating are used, each serving as a check upon the other two. The first method measures migration into the state by the numbers of the school children progressing from grade to grade in the elementary schools the second uses the proportion of school children to the total population and takes into consideration the declining birth rate; and the third makes use of the number of deaths reported in different age groups. All these data are available each year from official records. The three methods show close agreement for each of the years since 1930, and indicate a gain of approximately 673,000 persons during the five-years period from 1930 to 1935. This is about half the gain of 1,336,000 estimated during the five years from 1920 to 1925."

PAC. PHONE CO. CUT RATES PER YEAR $3,100,000

N. R. Powley, president of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Southern California Telephone Company has advised the California Railroad Commission, in accepting their recent order reducing rates in the Los Angeles Exchange, that the Company would, subject to the approval of the Commission, voluntarily reduce its exchange rates in the San Francisco-East Bay Exchange and reduce the Hand Set rate in all exchanges throughout the state, all of these reductions to become effective with the bills issued on and after June 1, 1936.

In making this announcement, Mr. Powley stated:

"The total annual savings to our customers in the state of California, as a result of these rate reductions, will approximate $3,100,000. We are voluntarily offering to reduce our San Francisco-East Bay Exchange rates $1,250,000 per annum which is the same amount as the reduction ordered by the commission for the Los Angeles Exchange. The remainder of the total reduction—$600,000 per annum—is due to the state wide reduction in the hand set rate.

The rates we are offering to reduce in San Francisco-East Bay Exchange and the hand set reductions throughout our exchanges in the state of California are shown in Appendix 1. The San Francisco-East Bay Exchange rates include a reduction of 50c a month for individual line business message rate service; a reduction on private branch exchange trunk lines, reduction in semi public service guarantee; a reduction of 25c a month for one-party residence service; a reduction of 25c a month for two-party residence flat rate service!! a reduction of 25c a month for two party residence message rate service and the elimination of a monthly charge for long cords. The hand set rate for all exchanges is reduced from 25c a month to 15c a month, with the provision that the charge will be eliminated after the customer has had this service for 18 months and is to be eliminated at once for customers who have now had this service for 18 months or more. We look forward, ultimately, to the complete elimination of this additional charge but due to the pronounced effect upon plant changes and necessary rate level considerations, it is not possible at this time to eliminate the charge entirely.

CCC BOYS IMPROVE FOREST SERVICE HDOTRS.

CAMPTONVILLE, May 18.—Several improvements were recently completed at the local forest service headquarters. Two new rooms were recently built onto the office in which Dispatcher A. H. Behrens will reside during the fire season.

The buildings were recently connected with telephonic communication with buried cables from building to building. A sprinkling system for the lawns about the grounds is being completed.

This work was completed by CCC boys from Missouri who are stationed here for the summer.

TRACTS OF LAND ARE WANTED FOR LABOR CAMPS

The Resettlement Administration announced today it will consider the purchase of land for migratory agricultural labor camps and part-time farms in certain areas of California.

These areas, according to Jonathan Garst, regional director, are as follows:

Delano-McFarland-Shafter area, Kern county; vicinity of Kingsburg, Fresno county; vicinity of Modesto; Stanislaus county; Lodi-Thornton area or Sacramento area; vicinity of Winters, Yolo county; Sonoma county; southern Santa Clara county; vicinity of Coachello, Riverside county; Imperial Valley.

Tracts of land for the tight new migratory camps to be established in California are under consideration in these areas but offers of other land will be received, Mr. Garst said.

Sites for part-time farms are being considered in the vicinity of Yuba City and Coachello, as well as in several other areas. One tract near Visalia has been approved.

The part-time farm program calls for the settling of 400 families of agricultural laborers on small acreage where they can supplement their seasonal income by farming for themselves.

The eight additional labor camps for migratory farm workers will bring the total in California to 10, one having been established at Marysville and one at Arvin last year.

Offers of land will be received by Frank Wilson at Resettlement Administration headquarters, Berkeley.

The new home of Eldon Kendrich, located near the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Holmes near Shaws Fruit stand, is rapidly nearing completion

Fisherino

(By Francis Bradford)

There's a land called "Fisherino"
In the hills of "Splashing Trout",
Where the boys who live for fishin'
Are the only ones about;
Where they don't believe in workin'
And a man can fish all day,
Where the trout are always hungry
In the "Fish-Aplenty-Bay".

There the season never opens
'Cause it's never yet been closed,
And the "Down with limits" platform
Never yet has been opposed;
They don't have a constitution,
But a real official seal
With a picture of a rainbow
Set beneath a rod and reel.

There, the only stores that prosper
Are the fishin' tackle kind,
And the buildin's all with photos
Of their fightin' fish are lined;
Ain't no president or gov'ner—
Just a happy band o' men
Who believe the rule o' rod and
Reel overrules the sword and pen.

May the flag of "Fisherino"
Ever ripple out on high,
O'er the citizens who eat and
Sleep and fish until they die;
How to get there? Knew you'd ask me;
All the fellers usually do,
But I only dreamed about it,
Gosh a'mighty—wish I knew!!

BLUE BIRD CAFE GOES MODERN

The Blue Bird cafe of Grass Valley since it passed into the hands of Mr. W. B. McClard has marched steadily forward with the county's increase of population and its growing patronage. The Blue Bird's location, 110 Mill street, is one of the best in Grass Valley and Mr. McClard has taken advantage of the fact by giving his big shop a thorough ovehhauling. The seating capacity has been doubled by doubling the length of the counter. Cushioned stools with comfortable backs have been installed and patrons now find it one of the pleasantest spots for luncheons and refreshments in the county.

The big improvement made by Mr. McClard, however, is in the installation of a commodious hardening room and refrigerator plant which enables him to anticipate the demands that week ends and holidays inevitably make upon an establishment of this character. Busy women who wish to entertain at parties find that the Blue Bird can supply them with ice cream in colorful and delicious bricks, or in hardened quarts, or actually in sundaes of every conceivable kind each in its own paent container, already for serving at the moment desired, either from their own or the Blue Bird's refrigerator.

Mrs. George A. Downey of Nevada City is visiting her two daughters in Sanger and Kerman, Fresno county and will go from there to Los Angeles where she will spend some time with relatives. She expects to be gone about two months.

CAMPTONVILLE TO DANCE; BIDS WHISKERINOS

CAMPTONVILLE, May 17.—Camptonville is preparing for one of the best dances ever held at the local Masonic Hall on Saturday, May 23, at which time a great display of Whiskeronis will be had. In co-operation with the Nevada City Fourth of July celebration, most of the men of Forest, Alleghany, Camptonville, and North San Juan, are cultivating exuberant growths of facial beauty and the local dance committee is offering three cash prizes for the best whiskers as judged by a committee of three judges, one from here, one from Nevada City and one from Forest. Door prizes will also be given. The Marysville Stampede has been extended the opportunity to announce themselves and tell the mountains what they expect to present on the 30th.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Foote's Band of Grass Valley, and the usual fine supper will be served in the spacious supper hall at midnight.

EDITOR IN TOWN

They have a new slogan, now, in the war against highway deaths. It is "Smart Roads for Dumb Drivers."

The engineers thought it up. They're a practical lot, without much faith in the habitually reckless driver's ability ever to learn to think. So they're out to make roads that will "think" for him.

To understand how many thousands of lives such roads might save yearly, consider the width of clearance passing vehicles have on, say, an ordinary 18-foot California road.

First the passenger cars, which are 5 feet, 8 inches in width. Each in the center of his lane, approaching the other at 50 miles an hour, they whisk by with but 3 feet, 4 inches clearing between them—between them and a crash with the impact of 100 miles per hour—between them and death. Then the commercial traffic, busses and trucks which are permitted, in this state, to be 8 feet wide. Two of these approaching on this road, each in the center of its lane, zoom by with clearance of only one foot—one foot between them and the tangled wreckage of catastrophe.

From all this it's pretty clear why safety engineers are out to build roads with a high center curb to separate opposing streams of traffic. They're expensive, of course, running from $100,000 to $400,000 per mile.

Nevertheless, it's inevitable that someday you'll see them everywhere—these "thinking" roads, these "Smart Roads for Dumb Drivers."

A Glimpse of Building Activity

Vol. 1. MAY 15, 1936. No. 19.

Rude Berggren, one of our local jewelers is busy constructing a new home on the Red Dog road. He is using Redwood Shingles which will solve his roofing problem for many years.

While on the subject of roofs, have you noticed the very attractive roof Mr. and Mrs. Leon Christenson are putting on their new home? It is Pabco's Jade Anglolocks and when finished will be beautiful and lasting.

The D. Alario home on Long St., is being remodeled by contractor Thos. Reynolds. They are installing large triple windows bringing sunshine and light into their home.

Painter Walter Sullivan is painting Mr. Bowden's home at Gold Flat. This is fine weather for painting and does make your home so much more pleasing to the eye and costs so little for all the enjoyment you receive from it. Why not come in and let us tell you how little it costs and show you our color cards on both inside and outside paints.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dolan of Boulder street have just completed an addition to their screen porch and have painted it a light green making it cool and cheerful looking.

With the beginning of the warm weather do not overlook screens for your doors and windows. We have both full screen and Panel Bottom doors, full screen or sliding screens for your windows. Put them on now and enjoy the satisfaction of knowing flies and mosquitos will not bother you this year.

MEMORIES OF THE NEW CAR

"Charles," said the father to his 5-year old offspring, "come here a minute. I want you to see your brand-new baby brother."

The small lad went on reluctant feet and looked at the baby. Suddenly large tears began to roll down his cheeks.

"Why, Son," his father asked, "what is the matter? Aren't you glad that we have a new boy?"

"D-di-did you trade me in on him?" sobbed Charles.

New Cars And Old Roads

Are many highway accidents attributable to the fact that road construction has not kept pace with the requirements of modern motorized traffic? No answer?

My car is a dream of perfection—
The acme of beauty and grace;
But pride in its action I stifle
While frowns dim the light of my face.
I dwaddle through fair summer landscapes
When I long to rush on like a star;
Will some one please show me a highway
Designed for a new stream line car?

The roads climb the hills and the mountains,
They traverse each valley and plain,
They crawl across grey, haunted deserts
And skirt the cool shores of the main;
But no matter where I am driving,
These facts are a grievance to me,
My car is a thirty six model.
While the road is an old twenty three.

The jack rabbit runways were widened
When the burro passed by with his pack,
The trail of the burro expanded
For carriage and stage coach and hack;
And then came the first timid autos
And many new highways were made;
The cars forged ahead to perfection
But the roads lagged behind the parade.

I can't pass a truck on the highway—
The strip of cement is too narrow;
The curves and the humps and the hollows
My senses continually harrow;
The dread of impending disaster
All joy in my new treasure mars;
Will some kindly person please show me
A road that's kept pace with the cars?
No answer? Well, viewing the future,
This pitiful vision I see;
Myself in a forty six model
On a road that's an old thirty three!

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

Mr. Victor Gates has nearly completed construction of a cosy seven room home on Sugar Loaf mountain north of Nevada City for himself and family. In order to build his home he had to cut into the mountain bringing the earth forward for a fill. A cement wall seven feet high and 300 feet long holds the front yard in place. The road was also raised eight feet for a distance of 220 feet. Mr. Gates, fond of hunting has constructed a group of kennels near his home and painted them green and white.

Mr. Harry Odgers and family of Mariposa visited with relatives in Nevada City recently. Upon his return home he was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Mary German, who returned home Friday evening after a four days visit. They enjoyed a motor trip to Yosemite Valley where everything was beautiful. Mrs. German stated snow banks were from five to six feet deep in many places in the valley.
